

Holy Guardian Angels School, a traditional Catholic K-8 school staffed by religious of the Congregation of Mary Immaculate Queen (CMRI), offers a unique educational alternative by striving to impart to its students an abiding faith and love of God, respect for themselves and others, and a true love of country.

Located in Olathe, Colorado, Holy Guardian Angels School has been a K-8 environment for many years. The dedicated traditional Catholic Sisters who form the core of the faculty are joined by other teachers who uphold high ideals through rigid academic standards and character formation as well as a deep spiritual connection with God. Thus, Holy Guardian Angels School is dedicated to excellence both in education and the salvation of souls. The faculty strives to accomplish this end by teaching students to gain a deep understanding and commitment to the Roman Catholic Faith; to learn and appreciate the traditions and values of a Catholic culture and the means whereby these may be preserved in the modern world; to develop solid academic skills in the areas of reading, writing, mathematics, speaking and critical thinking; and to gain an appreciation of the fine arts.

Close interaction between teachers and students provides a bond not found in larger schools and helps to ensure that no student is neglected or overlooked. Inspired by the teachings of our Divine Lord Jesus Christ, Holy Guardian Angels School, a private Catholic school, prepares boys and girls to recognize and choose good, to contribute to a moral society, and to be the future leaders of the 21st century.
